Goldbelt Empires Limited Announces Airborne Survey Over South Morila Concession Area

CALGARY, ALBERTA--(Nov. 25, 2015)

THIS PRESS RELEASE IS NOT FOR DISTRIBUTION TO THE UNITED STATES NEWSWIRE SERVICES OR FOR DISSEMINATION IN THE UNITED STATES

Goldbelt Empires Limited (TSX VENTURE:GBE) (the "Company" or "Goldbelt Empires") announced today it has commissioned an airborne survey over its flagship property, the South Morila gold concession in Mali, West Africa. New Resolution Geophysics ("NRG") will conduct the airborne magnetic and radiometric survey using NRG's proprietary systems.

The survey is scheduled to commence in late November and will take approximately 1 week to complete with final results expected by the end of 2015.

About the South Morila Concession

The South Morila project consists of a 151.1km² licence covering prospective Birimian terrain in southern Mali.

The licence is between 10 and 25 km south of Randgold Resources' Morila gold mine. Randgold Resources has publically disclosed that its Morila gold mine, which commenced operations in October 2000, has produced over six million ounces of gold.

Based on the recommendation of its technical advisors, Goldbelt Empires decided to use NRG's airborne system as a cost effective and expedited way to acquire the data at a level of quality and control not immediately achievable with a ground based survey. Geophysical data will be acquired using a flight line spacing of 100m and a sensor height of ~50m in order to optimize detailed and accurate data collection.

Jonathan Challis, CEO of Goldbelt Empires, commented: "We are excited about commencing an airborne geophysics survey over our South Morila licence as this new data will assist greatly in the geological interpretation and subsequent exploration planning. Preliminary results are anticipated to be available by the end of 2015 on completion of the survey and the interpretation of the data collected."

Jonathan Challis (C.Eng & FIMMM), CEO of Goldbelt Empires, and Andrew Dacey (R.P.Geo & FIMMM), its technical advisor, are the Qualified Persons, as defined by National Instrument 43-101, who have approved the scientific and technical information in this news release. The Qualified Persons note that the aforementioned information concerning the Randgold Resources' Morila gold mine is not necessarily indicative of the mineralization in respect of Goldbelt Empires' South Morila license.
